Quintus Glerum is a mixed media artist that exploits the boundaries between humanity and technology. He uses his background in animation in the digital and physical space to play with different realities and hypothetical worlds. Glerum's work offers situations to reflect on what it means to be human when our image is mirrored by the gaze of machines. He got his bachelor degree in animation from AKV st.joost and his master degree in Fine Arts from Frank Mohr Institute. He graduated both programs with honors.
